LCSO makes undercover massage parlor arrest

A Tallahassee massage parlor employee has been charged with solicitation of prostitution after offering to perform sexual acts on an undercover sheriff's deputy.

Jing Zhong, 50, an employee at the Jade Massage Parlor on Williams Street in Maitland, was arrested Wednesday and bonded out of the Leon County Jail Thursday morning.

The Leon County Sheriff's Office has received complaints from residents suspicious that prostitution was going on at the parlor.

An undercover officer went to the parlor and paid for a 30-minute, $50 massage. Shortly after it started, court records say, Zhong pointed at the deputy's genitalia, stimulated masturbation with her fist, and asked if he wanted a sexual massage for an additional $50.

Zhong was arrested on site after investigators said she made the offer to perform sexual acts for payment. LCSO spokesman Lt. Grady Arndt said there was no indication human trafficking was taking place at the parlor.

Alana Kleinbard and her husband, Jim Roche, live within sight of the business. During the arrest, she said, traffic at times would go as far as the parlor as late as 1 or 2 a.m.

Richard was disappointed to hear about another arrest at the parlor. "We were concerned about what was going on there at all hours of the night," she said. "I was afraid they would have cleaned the place up. This is a neighborhood where they walk around. I don't think it's appropriate for that to be here."

Jade Massage Parlor employees have been arrested in past attempts. In March, another female employee was arrested during a similar operation. She was ordered to complete a diversionary program.

A Tallahassee woman will get to see if her "Price Is Right" when the episode of the game show she appears on airs today.

Alex Landraux grew up watching the longest-running game show in television history. She begged her parents to take her to a taping for her 18th birthday, but they never brought her. So she left for Air Force basic training.

Now, Landraux's sister and brother-in-law, who are in the Air Force, are stationed in Los Angeles. Landraux, who is now a law student at Florida State University, and her fiancé decided to visit and while they were there, the four decided to get tickets for a taping of the show.

When Landraux's name was called during the July taping, she was in complete shock.

"I think I had the slowest 'come on down' run," said Landraux, 26. "The whole experience was really surreal."

Mike Williams mystery featured on 'Crime Watch Daily' TV show

MICHAEL STARR REPORT

The mysterious December 2009 disappearance of Tallahassee real estate appraiser Mike Williams will be featured on the national television show "Crime Watch Daily."

The show will be broadcast locally on WTWC channel 60.

Williams, a husband and father, was 31 years old when he went missing after he was reported to have gone duck hunting alone on Lake Seminole in Jackson County. Initially he was thought to have fallen from his boat, drowned and his body eaten by alligators. Years later, however, law enforcement officials began to investigate the case at the urging of his mother and now his brother Williams was the victim of foul play.

Tallahassee Democrat News Director Jennifer Portman is among those interviewed in the show. A video of the entire broadcast will be available at crimewatchdaily.com after 8 p.m.
